PROFESSIONAL BIOGRAPHY:

SHORT BIO

Thapelo Mokoena is an award-winning South African actor, entrepreneur, producer, and brand strategist. He is founder at Bakoena Brands (Pty) Ltd & the co-founder of Bosman Bakoena Brands (Pty) Ltd which is producer to Nero Wines, a premium African wine brand rooted in heritage, resilience, and ownership.

As a speaker, MC, and moderator, Thapelo is known for his commanding presence, clarity of thought, and authentic storytelling. He speaks on leadership, personal branding, resilience, and creative entrepreneurship—empowering individuals and organisations to build meaningful, future-proof brands grounded in purpose and African excellence.

LONG BIO

Thapelo Mokoena is a highly respected South African actor, entrepreneur, producer, and thought leader whose career spans film, television, theatre, and business. With decades of experience in the creative industries, he has built a reputation for excellence, longevity, and reinvention—both on screen and off.

His on-screen work across major local and international platforms has positioned him as one of Africa's most recognisable and trusted creative voices. Off screen, Thapelo is the founder of Bakoena Brands, a diversified business group with interests in premium consumer goods, including Nero Wine, a proudly African brand celebrating resilience, heritage, and ownership.

Through his entrepreneurial journey, Thapelo has become a powerful advocate for personal branding, value creation, and sustainable African enterprise. He understands influence not as popularity, but as responsibility—using platforms to educate, inspire, and unlock opportunity. As a speaker, MC, and moderator, Thapelo brings warmth, authority, and insight to boardrooms, conferences, festivals, and leadership platforms. His talks blend lived experience, strategic thinking, and compelling storytelling, making him equally impactful with executives, entrepreneurs, creatives, and emerging leaders.
